This is the third office action for application number 10/796,869, Rock Climbing Machinery, filed on March 10, 2004.

Continued Examination Under 37 CFR 1.114

A request for continued examination under 37 CFR 1.114, including the fee set forth in 37 CFR 1.17(e), was filed in this application after final rejection. Since this application is eligible for continued examination under 37 CFR 1.114, and the fee set forth in 37 CFR 1.17(e) has been timely paid, the finality of the previous Office action has been withdrawn pursuant to 37 CFR 1.114. Applicant's submission filed on October 13, 2005 has been entered.

Reasons for Allowance

The following is an examiner's statement of reasons for allowance: the primary reasons for the allowance of the claims in this application are the limitations of: a method for making a rock climbing device including the steps of forming a rigid tube, creating a band, cutting at least one first pair of notches into the top of the tube, cutting a second pair of notches into the top of the tube, and inserting the band through a shaft in the tube, included in independent claim 14 and in combination with the other elements recited in the claim; and a rock climbing device including a tube, first and second carabiners, a band, the tube having a shaft, top and bottom, the top having a first pair of notches arranged at opposite ends from each other, a second pair of notches arranged at opposite ends from each other, the second pair of notches being cut a depth greater than the first pair of notches, and the band passing through the shaft such that the first ends of the band emerges from the top of the tube and the second end of the band emerges from the bottom of the tube, included essentially in independent claims 22, 24, and 25 in combination with the other elements recited in the claims, respectively. These combinations of elements are not found in the prior art of record.

Any comments considered necessary by applicant must be submitted no later than the payment of the issue fee and, to avoid processing delays, should preferably accompany the issue fee. Such submissions should be clearly labeled "Comments on Statement of Reasons for Allowance."
